Special thanks to all the parent volunteers who helped students with pumpkin carving this month! Eastview Elementary had 100 pumpkins donated from Kingwood Center that students designed and carved with their vivid imaginations! The pumpkins are currently being displayed at Kingwood Center for those who would like to see their creations.

Reading is fun!! Our library has a new look and the students have been enjoying the comfortable seating while they read their books. This year students are coming to the library every 3 days. Students in grades 4-6 are being read continuing chapter books for their grade while students in grades K-3 are hearing some of the newest books that have been released in 2013. A special thank you to the PTO for the successful bookfairs in the past that allowed some of the furniture in the library to be purchased with Scholastic dollars.

Kroger and Target Cards

Please register your Kroger and Target Cards for our school. You do not lose your fuel points and our school receives up to 5% of everything that you spend. Kroger cards need to be re-registered every year. Click on "Kroger" or "Target" on our website to find out how to register your card. We appreciate your help and support!

Special thanks to the Madison Fire Department who engaged our K-2 grade level students in teaching fire prevention. Students received a lesson on what to do in case of a fire, practiced how to exit a house with smoke in the air, and then best of all got the chance to put out a pretend house fire with the fire hose!

Message From The Principal

Dear Parents,

The school year has been going great at Eastview Elementary! We have been implementing a positive behavior reward system at Eastview Elementary. Students who stayed on Green for the month of September attended the "Green Party" at the beginning of October. Students enjoyed extra recess, push pops from the PTO, and a visit from Izzy the therapy dog! Izzy is certified through Therapy Dogs International and was our special guest whom students love visiting with!

Parent/Teacher Conferences are coming up on Thursday, November 7th and Tuesday, November 12th. If you have not already scheduled a conference and would like to, feel free to contact the office 419-589-7335.

REGULAR BEDTIMES TIED TO BETTER BEHAVIOR

There are lots of things that have important impacts on behavioral development. According to a recent study having a regular bedtime has proved to be a consideration.

British researchers interviewed mothers when their children were ages 3, 5 and 7, asking how often their children had a regular bedtime: always, usually, sometimes or never. The mothers and the children's teachers also completed questionnaires about behavioral difficulties.

Almost 20 percent of 3-year-olds had no regular bedtime, compared with 9.1 percent of 5-year-olds and 8.2 percent of 7-year-olds. After controlling for many social, economic and parental behavioral factors, the scientists found that children with a regular bedtime, whether early or late, had fewer behavioral problems. And the longer irregular bedtimes persisted, the more severe the difficulties were.

The study, published in "Pedicatrics" by Yvonne Kelly, also found that children who had irregular bedtimes at ages 3 and 5 had significant improvements in behavior scores if their bedtime was regular by age 7.
